Mikado's Troops Now Masters Liao Tung Territory, Save Port Arthur.

Port Arthur.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17-2 A. M.—Advices received by the general staff show that the Japanese are practically masters of all of the southern end of the Law Tung Peninsula, save Port Arthur and the territory commanded by its guns. This result, so promptly brought about, is due to the failure of the Russians to make opposing of any consequence to the Japanese advance.

A number of the general staff said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that the removal of the guns from the fortifications erected at Kin Chau and the destruction of Port Dalay were primarily for the purpose of concentrating the entire Russian force at Port Arthur. If the men and guns were scattered, the effect would have been to distribute the means of defence of the fortress over a number of points strategetically weak. The destruction of Dalny was the result of no sudden determination, but was due to the probability that a force attempting to hold this place could be separated from Port Arthur and captured, thus infilicting further loss of pressige to the Russians, which could not be permitted at this time. To defend the whole of the southern end of the Liao Tung Peninsula, it would have been necessary to have an army equal to that which the Japanese could have landed. The weakness of the Manchurian army, said this officer, left only one course to pursue, namely—that of mobilizing sufficient troops at Port Arthur to hold it until relief came, and abandoning every point outside which did not contribute to the strategic defense of the fortress, it has been learned that the ground over which the Japanese must charge to capture the fortress, is heavily mined. If they do capture it, the officer said, they will pay a frightful price.

The Gestruction of Dalny is complete, the treakwater and the buildings, as well as the piers and docks, having been blown up.

Tenth Army Corps, on Eve of Departure for the Far East, Assemble Before Emperor.

(By Associated Press.) KHARKOFF, May 17 -- Emperor Nichplas's long journey, the purpose of which is to say farewell to the Tenth and Seventeenth Army Corps, is serving the double purpose of stimulating the officers and men on the eve of their departure for the front and of stirring the patriotism of the people to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

(By Associated Press.) MUKDEN, Monday, May 16.-The fighting line is steadily nearing Mukden, where Viceroy Alexieff's headquarters still remain. Little reliable information still remain. Little reliable information can be obtained by the newspaper correspondents, who are forchfiden to proceed to the scene of operations, and official information is withheld until advices are sent to St. Petersburg. It is now known, however, that the Japanese are almost within striking distance of the Russiant, and that the forces protecting Lizo Yang are stretching eastward from the railroad along the Muso Tien mountain range. Japanese are advancing in three columns, and are now north of Slu-Yen and Feng-Wang-Cheng. Two columns are reported to be working further to the northward, with the object of turn-ng the Russian position and adjusted pon Mukden.

Numerous small engagements have been Acceleve action has taken fought, but no decisive action has taken place. Port Arthur is now completely isolated by the Japanese expedition at Polandien.

Polandien.

The Japanese are now operating in a rugged country, well suited to the Russian defense, but north of Liao Yang to Mukden the country is a flat plain, intersected by rivers. The weather recently has been hot and dry, but the rain which has fallon in the past two days has made the roads almost impassable for vehicles, and when the rainy season begins, at the end of June, this plain will be converted into a morass. This condition will probably result in the practical suspension of operations.

There is no change in the enemy's defense, except the addition of two or three field gons to their position, which had the effect of interrupting the work of clearing the bay of the mines. Nevertheless the Japanesse destroyed eight mines, but there are many more left, and the work of destroying them will be continued.

COUNCIL TO MEET TO-DAY FLOOD

Annual Session of Governing Body-Among the Episcopolians.

SPECIAL MATTERS ARE UP

Attendance Will be Large and the Meetings of Very Great Interest-

The one hundred and ninth annual council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia will begin at 10 Pelock this morning in St. James Church, of this allowed the council of the council Church in Virginia will begin at 10 o'clock this morning in St. James Church, of this city.

From all sections of the diocese delegates, cierical and lay, are gathering, and by the time the body is rapped to order the attendance will probably be quite full. The meeting place is central and easy of access, and nearly all of those appointed will be here. The attendance of local Episcopalians will doubtless be correspondingly large and representative. The council is the suppeme governing body in the diocese, and its transactions are of the very liveliest interest to the entire denomination within those bounds. The sessions will continue for three days.

REGULAR BUSINESS.

The first session will begin at 10 o'clock to-day with morning prayer, after which the council sermon will be preached. /The Holy Communion will then be administered by Bishop Robert A. Gibson, the presiding officer of the council organization will then be effected and business will begin. The following order will be observed: The appointment of a treasurer pro tempore when the treasurer is absent; the adoption of rules of order; the reading of the journal of the preceding day; the reading of pastoral address: the appointment of committees; report of standing committees; will be appointed by the president not later than the second day of the council, unless otherwise directed. Immediately after the reading of the bishop's address the council will proceed to elect the standing committee of bishop's address the council will pro-ceed to elect the standing committee of the diocese, the education committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, and such other committees as are necessary.

The council will sit as a board of missions on the first day of the session at 8 P. M.

8 P. M.

The council will receive reports from the various committees. The past year has been a most successful one, and these reports will be most gratifying. At 8:15 o'clock there will be an meeting in the interest of diocesan missions. To-morrow morning there will be an address by Mrs. A. L. Lloyd, of the Board of Missions, of New York.

SPECIAL MATTERS, Several special matters will make the present session one of very particular interest. Deputies will have to be chosen interest. Deputies will have to be chosen to the general convention which meets in October in Boston. The delegation will be instructed to invite the convention to meet in Richmond in 1907, and the invitation will probably be accepted. The report of the Committee on the Bethany Institute will attract considerable attention. The committee will recommend the establishment of a training school for deaconesses and will submit a plan of work. The institute, if the council adopts the report of the commita plan of work. The institute, if the council adopts the report of the committee, will be located in Richmond, and will be the first of its kind in the South. The building at No. 60! East Main Street, where the Episcopal rooms have been located, will probably be used for the purpose.

Another important matter will be the Another important matter will be the question of establishing the office of archdeacon of the diocese, who, under the direct control of the bishop, will have supervision of the missionary work in the diocese. There is already an archdeacon for the colored work and the present movement contemplates such an officer for work among the white churches. There is considerable opposition to the movement and the matter will probably create considerable discussion.
